

The Las Vegas Golf Hall of Fame was created in 1991 to honor those individuals and organizations that have made lasting impressions or contributions to the game of golf in Southern Nevada. The Hall of Fame currently consists of 22 inductees that include, among others, The 1998 UNLV NCAA Championship golf team, golf instructor Butch Harmon, PGA Tour players Chris Riley and Robert Gamez, women's amateur champion Helen Cannon, long-time amateur champions Brady Exber and Louis Redden, PGA of America professional Jerry Roberts, and many other deserving Las Vegas golf community members who have positively impacted the game of golf in Las Vegas.

To further honor these individuals, a permanent Hall of Fame will be housed starting in the summer of 2009 at Las Vegas National, a club with its own deep and rich history including the hosting of such prestigious events as the PGA Tour's Tournament of Champions, Sahara Invitational, and Las Vegas Invitational, and many other world class tournaments including the LPGA Championship. In addition, the mission of the Las Vegas Golf Hall of Fame is to continually promote golf in Las Vegas

To dedicate the Las Vegas Hall of Fame and assist in the fund raising efforts a very special golf event will be held Monday, June 29th at Las Vegas National. The inaugural Las Vegas Golf Hall of Fame Pro-Am will be held with members of the Hall of Fame as special guests in the event. The format is one professional and four amateurs. The entry fee for PGA members is $75 with non PGA professionals paying $125. Amateur entry fees are $125 per player or $500 per team. Prizes will be awarded to both professionals and amateurs and golf merchandise and rounds of golf will be given away during the post-round cocktail and awards banquet where the new Hall of Fame will be dedicated.

As a supporter of Las Vegas, we are asking for your participation in this very special event. Whether you purchase a team, donate product for the event or simply write a check to help invest in construction of the Hall of Fame we are asking for your help.
